

Kirkland's Shipyard

October 12, 1933 Captain Alexander Peabody tows the Peralta's hull to Kirkland's Lake Washington Shipyard.

1933 — 1935 In the midst of an unstable world and the Great Depression, came the inspiration for the design of the Kalakala — “FLYING BIRD.” Peabody's goal is to create a design to capture the imagination of the world.
