Purpose and Background Information

The City of Kirkland actively promotes nonmotorized travel through their bicycle and pedestrian network and trail system. The Cross Kirkland Corridor (CKC) will provide the community with a high-quality nonmotorized connection that links neighborhoods and provides access through the heart of the City.

King County has opened the portion of the trail directly to the east of the Slater Avenue NE-132nd Avenue NE crossing, as shown in the figure. Historically, approximately 300 trail users traverse the trail in this location per day and it is anticipated that this will grow to between 600 and 750 users per day when Eastrail extends to the east. The ultimate use of this trail is estimated to be between 2,000 and 3,000 users per day in this vicinity.

The current crossing of Slater Avenue NE-132nd Avenue NE presents a challenge for trail users, requiring out-of-direction travel and navigation of the intersection of Slater Avenue NE and NE 124th Street. The out-of-direction travel required to make this crossing is approximately 800 feet, adding delay for those traveling along the CKC. Some users also attempt to jaywalk across Slater Avenue NE-132nd Avenue NE, creating safety concerns at the crossing.

The City of Kirkland, in partnership with King County, conducted a preliminary study which evaluated both at-grade and grade-separated trail crossing alternatives of Slater Avenue NE-132nd Avenue NE. One near-term and two long-term alternatives were selected that best meet the purpose and need of the crossing. This Design RFQ is for the design of the near-term solution, Alternative 1A. This solution will include an at-grade crossing with a narrowed roadway and a HAWK. This solution can be implemented sooner than the other alternatives and will provide a significant benefit in the immediate term as there is a pressing need to implement a safer crossing. The improvements associated with Alternative 1A will be added to the City's Capital Improvement Program (CIP). This recommendation received support from the Transportation Commission and City Council.
