Background Information

The City of Kirkland is located on the eastern shore of Lake Washington. It is a suburban city, surrounded by other suburban cities and pockets of unincorporated King County. The City is near several major transportation routes including Interstate 405, State Route 520, and Interstate 5. These routes connect the City economically and socially to the greater Seattle area.

At the time of incorporation in 1905, the City of Kirkland's population was approximately 530. The current estimated population is 92,900. Kirkland is the twelfth largest city in the State of Washington and the sixth largest in King County.

Since its incorporation, Kirkland has grown in geographic size to eighteen square miles - approximately twenty times its original size. This growth occurred primarily through the consolidation of the cities of Houghton and Kirkland in 1968, the annexations of Rose Hill and Juanita in 1988 and the annexation of North Juanita, Finn Hill, and Kingsgate areas in 2011.

Kirkland operates under a Council-Manager form of government. The City Council is the policy-making branch of Kirkland's government and consists of seven members elected at large to staggered, four-year terms. The Mayor is elected from within the Council. The City Council is supported by several advisory boards and commissions and the City Manager. The City Manager is appointed by the City Council and serves as the professional administrator of the organization, coordinating its day-to-day activities.

Purpose and Background

The City completed the installation of a supervisory control and data acquisition (SCADA) frame-relay-based telemetry system in the year 2012, which is operated at the City of Kirkland SCADA Telemetry Operations Room. The City's telemetry system consists of a master telemetry unit and computer-based data logger located at the City's Maintenance Center and remote telemetry units located at water and wastewater facilities. The master control computer allows system operators to access the control set points of each facility and modify these set points using the computer's keyboard and mouse. Water system sites include: Supply Stations S1, S2 and S3; the North and South Reservoirs; Kirkland Pressure Station P1; Kirkland K1, K2, K3 and K4 master meters. The Kirkland master meters are located along the I-405 corridor at each of the three transmission main freeway crossings and measure flow entering Kirkland's system on the west side of I-405. Pressure Station P1 measures the pressure in the 395 Zone at approximately NE 116th Street on the east side of I-405. Wastewater sites include six lift stations: Lake Plaza, Rose Point, Southbay, Trend, Waverly, and Yarrow Point. Trend Lift Station operates on a stand-alone dialer located in the station control cabinet.
