Urban Fantasy - see bridge of glass, Chihuly, Tacoma
Lighting under underpass = good
Eliza Grant (eliza.grant@outlook.com) if you need making man power I can do all sorts of things. I majored in art (AA) and have taught a lot.
Cool fence using "all that glitterers" or "innovation triangle" to cordon off behind columns under bridge. Part of the creepy factor is that you don't know what might be up there until you enter.
Love anything that brightens the "dark, scary, smelly" underpasses
Bridge treatment says "I should be there" rather than "I shouldn't be there"
You should listen to the Black Keys song "Gold on the Ceiling"
The city should consider a dynamo or some innovative wind power generator on the transmission towers
Consider railway art
Would like to see a dragon spiraling up one of the bridge columns
