MEMORANDUM

To: Human Services Commission

From: Lynn Zwaagstra, Director
Jen Boone, Human Services Manager

Date: August 10, 2022

Subject: 2023-2024 HUMAN SERVICES GRANT RECOMMENDATIONS FRAMEWORK
AND AVAILABLE FUNDING

RECOMMENDATION

That the Human Services Commission understand the grant recommendation framework and funding available in preparation of developing 23-24 grant funding recommendations for City Council.

BACKGROUND DISCUSSION

Human services grant funding supports adopted City Council goals. The Human Services Element of the Comprehensive Plan states that it is a city goal to “create a community in which all members have the ability to meet their basic physical, economic and social needs, and the opportunity to enhance their quality of life.”

A. History of Human Services Grant Funding

In 1986, the City of Kirkland began funding community agencies to provide human services to Kirkland residents. These general fund dollars have been one of two types of funding. The first are dollars that are assumed to be in each budget, called “ongoing base budget” dollars. Some years, the City Council has agreed to provide additional funding to meet increased human service needs. These funds are not guaranteed to be available in future biennium. These dollars are referred to as “one-time” supplemental funding. The ongoing base budget for human services for 2023 is $969,237. In 2021, the City Council authorized one-time funding in the amount of $241,889.

The City of Kirkland has added several sources of funding streams to support human services for Kirkland residents over the last few biennium cycles. Table 1 summarizes the investment since 2013 below.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG)

Since it became a Joint Agreement City in the King County Urban Consortium in 2015, the City has been able to allocate part of its share of the public services funds from federal Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The estimated amount for 2023 is $41,785.

Enhanced Police Services and Community Safety Ballot Measure (Prop 1)

In 2018 Kirkland voters approved a 0.1% public safety sales tax that provided additional funding for police and human services initiatives, including enhanced police services, school resource officers, a Mental Health Professional and second Neighborhood Resource Officer, a gun safety program, and human services funding to address homelessness, mental health needs, domestic violence, and suicide prevention for youth. Earlier this year, an additional $186,000 was allocated to human services funding following a program modification to the School Resource Officer \(SRO\) program. The funding available to support human services grants for 2023 is expected to be $636,000.

Multi Family Tax Credit Agreement with Kirkland Sustainable (MFTE)

In the fall of 2019, the City entered into an agreement with Kirkland Sustainable Investments, LLC (KSI) to offer new affordable rental housing units and City (and other public sector) employee rental housing units in downtown Kirkland. Part of this agreement called for “the payment to the City of 65% of KSI’s property tax savings for use by the City to invest in low-income housing programs and in support of the Eastside Women and Family Shelter.” Over the last three year of this agreement the City has supported housing navigators and client move-in assistance to families and women staying at the new Kirkland Place for Families and Women. The estimated funding available for 2023 is expected to be $76,440.

Here is a summary of the 23-24 budget for human services grant funding.

Goal Area Investment Comparison:

The City of Kirkland allocates funding in five community goal areas for human services funding.

1. Food to Eat and a Roof Overhead
2. Supportive Relationships within Families, Neighborhoods and Communities
3. Safe Haven from All Forms of Violence and Abuse
4. Health Care to Be as Physically and Mentally Fit as Possible
5. Education and Job Skills to Lead an Independent Life

In addition to the specified goal areas, the Human Services Commission (HSC) discusses the specific needs of the community emerging at the time of considering the next cycle of human services grants. Making recommendations on what programs to fund is difficult, recognizing the valuable services each respective organization provides to the community. Commission priorities have historically included: affordable housing, rent assistance, health services, behavioral health services, food insecurity, and lack of childcare. The pandemic has also prioritized the need to invest in community connections' focused programs.

Since the 2019-2020 biennium, the percentage of investment per goal area and the Commission priority areas have led to higher investments in housing and food, physical and mental health, and supportive relationships in the community. Table 2 describes the average investment per goal area by percentage for the last two cycles. Table 3 provides totals and number of programs by goal area for the last two cycles.
